He pointed out the necessity for reform in banking methods. He said his remedy was simple, prompt and efficient. At any time within forty-eight hours, if emergency requires, $500,000,000 in new money could be put in circulation. He said congress ought to require banks to invest a portion of their assets in railroad, state or municipal bonds, in the interest of both the public and stockholders.

...The Bank Habit....

Possibly you who read this have never kept a bank account. If not, let us suggest that you try the experiment. Aside from the fact that your money will be safe from fire and theft, such a habit tends to thrift, economy, discipline and a general understanding of business principles, all of which are essential to success. It also affords a convenient method for the payment of bills; and, as the checks are always preserved and returned to you, they serve as receipts for the amount paid.
